NO. 1:18-cv-00003

JUDGE CAMPBELL

MAGISTRATE JUDGE FRENSLEY

ORDER

Pending before the Court is the Magistrate Judge’s Report and Recommendation (Doc. No. 59), recommending the Court deny “Plaintiff’s Motion for an Preliminary [sic] Injunction and a Temporary Restraining Order” (Doc. No. 49). In the Report, the Magistrate Judge applied the relevant factors and determined Plaintiff’s request for preliminary injunctive relief should be denied.

In response, Plaintiff has filed a “Certificate of Consultation” (Doc. No. 60); Defendant has filed a Response (Doc. No. 61); and Plaintiff has filed a Reply (Doc. No. 62). The Court will construe Plaintiff’s filings as objections to the Report and Recommendation.

Under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1) and Local Rule 72.02, a district court reviews de novo any portion of a report and recommendation to which a specific objection is made. United States v. Curtis, 237 F.3d 598, 603 (6th Cir. 2001). General or conclusory objections are insufficient. See Zimmerman v. Cason, 354 F. Appx. 228, 230 (6th Cir. 2009). Thus, “only those specific objections to the magistrate’s report made to the district court will be preserved for appellate review.” Id. (quoting Smith v. Detroit Fed’n of Teachers, 829 F.2d 1370, 1373 (6th Cir. 1987)). In conducting the review, the court may “accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, the findings or recommendations made by the magistrate judge.” 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C).

Through his filings, Plaintiff claims that, while his motion was pending, Defendant Petra Lineberry refused to mail legal documents on two separate occasions and otherwise impaired his ability to access the courts. To the extent Plaintiff describes this incident to bolster his argument that irreparable harm exists, the Court is not persuaded that the addition of this incident to his request warrants the issuance of injunctive relief. As the Magistrate Judge concluded, Plaintiff’s failure to demonstrate a strong likelihood of success on the merits of his claims weighs heavily against the issuance of injunctive relief.¹ Plaintiff’s filings fail to state viable grounds to challenge the conclusions of the Magistrate Judge, or otherwise provide a basis to reject or modify the Report and Recommendation.

Having fully considered Plaintiff’s objections, the Court concludes they are without merit, and that the Report and Recommendation should be adopted and approved. Accordingly, Plaintiff’s Motion (Doc. No. 49) is DENIED.

It is so ORDERED.

WILLIAM L. CAMPBELL, JR.
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

¹ To the extent Plaintiff seeks to add this incident as a claim in this case, he is expected to file an appropriate motion requesting leave to do so.
